

Texture

There are two types of Texture:

Implied and

actual

Implied texture means that the viewer senses the texture of the object, but is unable to feel it because it is a 2-dimensional representation

Actual
texture
is 3-dimensional and you can feel it!

Texture has many implications for the artist

Who would you hire as a babysitter for your children?

or

“B”?

“Slick”

“Rough”

To incorporate texture into your vocabulary, you will be choosing a texture and creating a portrait of a person matching that description
