As a baby, you patted our back when we patted yours and that concern for others is a big part of who you are. You've matured into an inquisitive, thoughtful, capable and caring young man. Conversations with you are not just common (thanks for staying awake in the car), they are also stimulating and enjoyable - once your group chats are done, naturally. We've watched you branch out beyond what's expected, to challenging academics, sports, music, leadership, a huge social circle and one very special friendship (thanks, Marley). We can't wait to see your dreams come true in all the chapters of your life.

Congratulations to my little graduate! I am so proud that you have grown up into such a warm-hearted, mature and responsible young adult. Jesse Yeo

You've been such a ray of sunshine in our lives since the day you were born. In elementary school, you were apprehensive of your capabilities. As a young woman, you've shown yourself how much you can achieve with hard work and perseverance. In the future, it will be this work ethic that will allow you to be successful in all you do. We are so proud of your ongoing commitment to excellence. Thank you for sharing your high school days with your mom. It has been an honour! We wish you every success. Congratulations Jesse! Love Mom and Dad XO
